

Prof.dr Tomica Milosavljevic, Minister of Health Republic of Serbia

Born in 1955. in Krusevac. Graduated on School of Medicine, University Belgrade in 1979 where he also finished his master degree studies in 1983 and doctorate in 1988. Specialist of internal medicine with sub specialization of gastroenterology. Finished professional specialization in Munich (Klinikum rechts der Isar), Amsterdam (Academic Medical Center) and London (St. Marks Hospital, London Clinic). Since 2001 he was the assistant of managing director of Clinical Center of Serbia and the managing director of the gastroenterology clinic. In 1996, he was chosen for the position of president of Yugoslav Committee for gastroenterology endoscopy. He is a member of presidential board of several committees; one of the editors of the magazine "Gastroenterohepatological Archive". He was a chairman of the Organizational Board of the First Yugoslav School for digestive endoscopy. Author of several scientific projects. Speaks English and Russian language. Married, father of three children.